To the Lambton Ottawa Class of 2026:

It is my honour to be addressing you on this important day, your Convocation.

Today is a celebration of your hard work, your perseverance, and everything it took to reach this moment. It reflects the long days, the late nights, and the determination required to succeed in a demanding academic environment.

But more than that, today represents a journey.

For many of you, that journey began long before you arrived at the Lambton Ottawa campus. It began with a decision to pursue something more. To step outside of what was familiar. To take on the challenge of studying in a new country, in a new system, and often far from the people who know you best.

You have navigated new environments, adapted to new expectations, and built a life here while continuing to work toward your goals. You've learned not only in classrooms, but in every interaction, every challenge, and every moment that required you to adjust, grow, and keep moving forward.

That is something to be proud of.

And it's something that will stay with you.

Because while today marks the completion of your program, it also marks the beginning of something else.

You are stepping into fields that shape how organizations operate, how systems function, and how ideas move from concept to reality. The work you do will influence how people connect, how decisions are made, and how progress happens.

It will happen in systems that run smoothly because of your work.

In decisions that are better informed because of your insight.

In solutions that make things easier, faster, or more accessible for others.

And over time, those contributions add up.

They strengthen organizations.

They support communities.

They create opportunity.

And they do so because of people like you.

So as you leave here and begin to take on this next chapter in your life, I hope you will take a moment to recognize what you've accomplished.

Not just the credential you've earned, but the path you've taken to earn it. Because long before today, you proved that you can step into the unfamiliar and find your footing. That you can adapt, learn, and keep moving forward, even when things aren't easy. And that you can build something for yourself, one decision at a time.

And that doesn't end here.

It will continue in every role you take on, every challenge you face, and every opportunity you choose to pursue.

On behalf of everyone at Lambton College, thank you for choosing to be part of our community.

To the Lambton Ottawa Class of 2026, you have my sincere congratulations, my profound gratitude, and my very best wishes for what comes next.

Speaker

Manu Sharma

Manu Sharma is a strategist, educator, and community leader whose work sits at the intersection of leadership, technology, and social impact. With over two decades of experience across the technology sector, non-profits, and grassroots economic development, he has built a reputation for helping organizations navigate complexity, make thoughtful decisions, and design strategies that deliver meaningful, lasting impact.

He currently serves as Vice President of Operations at the Ottawa Community Foundation, where he leads organizational strategy, systems transformation, and operational excellence for one of Canada's leading community foundations. Across his career, Manu has consistently focused on aligning purpose with execution - bringing clarity, structure, and intention to the way organizations grow and serve their communities.

Alongside his professional work, Manu remains deeply committed to teaching, mentorship, and leadership development. As a faculty member at Lambton College, he has worked closely with international students, guiding them not only in their academic journeys but in how they think, lead, and position themselves in an increasingly complex world.

Known for his grounded and human-centered approach, Manu believes that meaningful success is built on clarity of purpose, integrity of action, and a deep responsibility to care for those in your charge. Whether in the classroom, the boardroom, or the community, he is recognized for his ability to challenge, support, and inspire others to move forward with confidence, care, and conviction.

Manu Sharma

Vice President of Operations, Ottawa Community Foundation

Board of Governors' Award Winner

Jessica Rodriguez

Jessica Rodriguez, our 2026 graduate, came to Canada from Mexico in April 2024 to pursue the Marketing Management – Digital Media program. Originally from Mexico City and later living in a small town in Guanajuato, Jessica brought with her a strong sense of purpose and a passion for creativity.

Driven by her background in graphic design and her desire to create meaningful impact, Jessica chose to expand her skills in digital marketing to better communicate ideas that matter and support causes close to her heart. She is recognized for her adaptability, creativity, and resilience, as well as her ability to transform ideas into tangible, effective, and measurable solutions.

During her time at Lambton College, Jessica embraced the challenge of working across cultures, learning to collaborate and grow by understanding diverse perspectives. She supported the organization of two marketing panels with industry professionals during her studies, helping create opportunities for knowledge-sharing within the student community. She completed her co-op at Lambton College Ottawa in the Student Support Services department, where she contributed to the marketing and promotion of a multi-institutional conference featuring TEDx speaker Sam Demma.

Beyond academics, Jessica has been actively involved in volunteer work with a nonprofit organization focused on raising awareness and preventing child sexual abuse, using her creative skills to support impactful communication efforts.

Jessica is deeply grateful for the Lambton community, for the guidance, kindness, and support from professors and staff who made her journey not only educational, but truly meaningful.

Alumni Leadership Award Winner

Jaya Mahajan

Jaya Mahajan is being recognized for her strong leadership and involvement at Lambton College. During her time at the College, she took on a number of student leadership roles, including President of Circle K International, Team Lead with Project One Future (Enactus Lambton), and Sexual Violence Prevention Ambassador.

She also worked as a Career Services Ambassador and Career Accelerator Program Ambassador in partnership with Devant Group and the Sarnia-Lambton Economic Partnership, helping students explore career paths and opportunities. In addition, she served as a Student Life Event Ambassador with the Student Administrative Council and as a Peer Wellness Mentor with Lion's Mind, supporting students across campus.

Through these roles, she has played an active part in student life and contributed to building a positive campus experience for others.

The Alumni Association congratulates her on this recognition.

Land Acknowledgement

Lambton College Ottawa is located on the traditional unceded territory of the Anishinabeg (Algonquin) people. We would like to honour the Anishinabeg, the First Peoples of the lands and waters of the Kichi Sibi (Ottawa River Valley) from time immemorial. We acknowledge that the site of the City of Ottawa serves as the home of the Anishinabeg, as a place for spiritual ceremonies, cultural gatherings and exchanges among First Peoples.

Today, this spirit of peace and friendship is the foundation of relationships among Indigenous Peoples and non-Indigenous peoples, from around the globe.

“

We are all in the process of becoming.

- Audre Lorde
